Germany Watching Portugal.

Bealey, June 6.—The German government is watching events in Portugal very anxiously. A belief is growing that France is purposely withdrawing the po-litical and financial support which she has hitherto accorded the Portuguese government, hoping thereby to force the monarchy into a corner, to arouse the spirit of the people and to bring about the declaration of a republic in Portugal, followed by a republic in Spain, which would be the natural result.

dent-New Postmasters. WASHINGTON, June 6 .- A stricter enorcement of the immigration laws is one of the certainties of the near future.

The Treasury officials are fully in sym pathy with the sentiment of the country in this regard, and from this time it will become more and more difficult for undesirable foreigners to find a lodgement in the United States. Assistant Secretary Nettleton, who has the immediate control of immigration matters, is fully alive to their importanos. He has given them careful and intelligent study. He has gone about his work, not in a spirit of bigotry, but in the belief that all Americans, native born and naturalized, are equally interested in keeping the idle, the vicious, the pauper and the unproductive immigrant from

In the course of an interview covering the general subject of immigration Assistant Secretary Nettleton was asked:
"Has the wholesale shipping of paupers from other countries to the United States

antirely ceased?"
"There is no real machinery of that kind at work now," he said. "We have learned, however, that in many provinces of Europe, or the small towns where undesirable persons have been found—such as idlers, thieves or questionable characters—steps have been quietly taken to provide them with means of deportation to the United States in order to be rid of them. antirely ceased?"

"A more extended and vicious system has recently been brought to our notice by a lady who came to this country as a steerage passenger in order to know something about our immigrants. She has informed me that in England it is the custom of some of the towns to ship Canada the inmates of workhouses and poorhouses as soon as their brief terms of imprisonment expire. These people are sent to Canada in order to avoid any complications that might arise from a violation of the international laws be-tween this country and Great Britain, but they eventually drift over the border into the United States, where they ex-pect to get along in some way."

A SAD SCENE. Director-General Davis of the World's Fair Suddenly Afflicted.

WASHINGTON, June 6 .- A very sad scene occurred in Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Nettleton's room during the morning. Director-General Davis of the World's Fair, who arrived here yes terday, was entertaining a number of friends and the assistant secretary with accounts of the progress of the ar rangements for the fair.

He was in the best of humor, when a telegraph messenger boy entered the room with a telegram for Mr. Davis. He opened it, and his face became pale, and he almost broke down. The telegram told of the death of his mother in Bos-

Mr. Davis left the department at once and went to the depot and took the train for Boston. Mrs. Davis was over 70 years of age, but her death was sudden, and the shock therefore great. Mr. Davis had just been talking about the World's Fair, and had said that the Exposition has $11,000,000 either actually in the treasury or available in 90 days, but that $8,000,000 or $7,000,000 more is now being secured in order to assure a display such as has never before been seen in the Director-General Davis has been em powered by the State Department to ap-point five commissioners to visit Europe in the interest of the fair, and to have their expenses paid by the government. Mr. Davis will, within a few days, announce the names of the commissioners

The British government, it is understood, will insist that the United States shall be pledged to pay British subjects for losses sustained through the deprivafor iossessustained through the depreva-tion of sealing privileges during the closed season if the contentions of the United States are not sustained by arbi-tration. Of course the President can give no such piedge for payment of damages, that being a matter that Congress alone can deal with. Congress not being in session, this question complicates the situation, and it is doubtful how the matter will be settled.

NATIONAL BURNANCE BURNANCE SERVICE SERVICES SERV A Big lumor

Some time last winter there appeared In the columns of the Bangor Commercial a description of a remarkable cure effected by the use of Brown's Sarsaparilla upon the person of Reuben Severance, a well known and highly ca-teemed citizen of Upper Stillwater, Me. With a view to placing the facts in the case of Mr. Severance beyond dispute, and to present them in such a form as to satisfy the doubts of the most increduons, a party of several gentlemen, including Mr. Warren, of the Brown's Sarsaparilla Company, and Ex-Governor Davis, drove out a few days ago to the pleasant residence of Mr. Severance. His tory as taken down from his own lips and sworn to before Gov. Davis, appears was obliged to have my pants out very large in the leg to accommodate the swel ling. It was the source of much most fleation as well as suffering to me. At this time the symptoms graw rand more acute. The least exertion or size upon the affected part would cause in tome, tearing pain, like the sticking of needles into the fical. I finally was obliged to abandon work suffrely and took to my bed. Labandoned hope and prayed for death to relieve my anticp ings. Physicians exemitted no and said that nothing could relieve me less tha cutting out of the tamor, and tink the chances were that I would die under the operation. The risk they believed to be too great to justify it. At this time I commenced taking Brown's Sarsajarilla

Disappears by the Use of

I, Reuben Severance, of Upper Stillwater, Mr., do make the following state-ment of facts:

About fourteen years ago a tumor came in my grein. It was at first about the size of a pea and did not trouble me much. It gradually increased in size, however, and was accompanied by severe, darling pains. My whole system became disordered. My food dld not digest; had attacks of digglaess; roaring ounds in my ears; pulpitation of the heart, which seemed at times to come up in my throat; passed many sleep-less nights. In the summer of 1885, the tumor had grown to such size that tance to the knee, and weighed, I should a kind of forlorn hone. I experienced an immediate change for the botter; my appetits returned; food consed to trouble met the ringing noise left my head, e ad best of all the tumor began to shrivel up and disappear. It is now, and has been for some time, entirely gone. I feel twenty-five years younger than I did a year ago; my general health has never been better. I can and do work from morning to night, and enjoy being able to do so. Only two or three days ago I worked in the hay field all day mowing heavy grass. I say God bless the man who invented this medicine. He should wear a crown. I mean always to keep a bottle of Brown's Saranparilla by me while I live. REUBEN SEVERANCE.
